Wetlands are globally endangered. Wetland protection can be effectively faced only by overcoming sectoral and administrative borders, looking at the Mediterranean ecosystems as a whole and building a strong collaborative governance system. The project WE GO COOP, started in January 2024, has the goal to (i) set up a Community of Practice (CoP) amongst actors engaged in Wetland Contracts at the Mediterranean level, capitalizing on the outcomes of former EU-funded projects, sharing challenges and solutions, and (ii) exchange experiences, methodologies, and strategies, and transfer the Wetland Contract tool to new contexts in the Euro-Med region (Croatia, Portugal, Albania) and the South and Middle East Med region.
